PERSONAL PROJECTS

Portfolio:
- I have designed and developed a visually appealing and user-friendly front-end portfolio website to showcase my skills, projects, and achievements as a web developer. The website is optimized for performance and fully responsive on all devices, providing an exceptional user experience.

E-commerce website:
- This project includes multiple pages with beautiful transitions. The website is an engaging front-end interface for online shopping, featuring user-friendly navigation, visually appealing design, and robust functionality. The website includes key features such as a search bar, filters, sorting options, and recommended products to help users easily find the products they need. It is also designed to be fully responsive, ensuring it looks great and functions seamlessly on all devices. https://github.com/taimoor788/Eccomerce-website.git
